SAD RESULTS

Traced to Overworked Minds and Bodies.

SUICIDES, NERVOUS PROSTRATION, PARALYSIS.

Heart Diseases and Sudden Deaths.

One after another of the great men of the nation are falling and most of them in middle life, all victims to overwork. Can we afford to lose such men? Those men died of nervous prostration in the midday of their usefulness, and in the last year how many business men and women have suddenly fallen out of the ranks either into untimely graves or to a worse fate. The business men of the nation are killing themselves by over work of mind, if not of body, and we call it "nervous prostration." The middle class is suffering in the same way. Overwork, the pressure of the times worry, fret and anxiety, are rendering us a weak and suffering generation. No man would commit suicide if his nervous system was in a state of perfect health. It is inevitably the result of nervousness in some form or other. Now, is it not time that we as a people, should seriously examine into this matter, and seek a remedy. It one can be found. The nervous system must be sustained and built up in proportion to its waste and disintegration or we must suffer. The facts prove that this waste is not supplied by our ordinary diet and living. The refined manner of living now does not give to us, in our food enough of nerve food or enough of that which goes to make nerve matter, to meet the demand made upon the nervous system, and the result is nervous prostration, paralysis, apoplexy, despondency, neuralgia, headache, sleeplessness and premature death. We all know that these are facts, and acknowledge the importance of a remedy. Now with all professional candor, I can say, after years of experience in their use, and sustained by the testimony of many thousands in this city and elsewhere that my CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS do and will supply this needed material to the nervous system. They are a nerve food. Their first effect is to promote digestion, thereby curing dyspepsia, secondly, they enter into the nervous fluid and create nerve matter, and in this way permanently cure nervous prostration, despondency, headache, neuralgia, nervousness, etc., by removing the causes of these diseases and securing the system against paralysis and apoplexy, etc. They contain no opium or morphia, nor any narcotic whatever, and can safely be used for any length of time.—The extract of celery is the great nerve maker and the extract of chamomile the great promoter of digestion and nervous sedative, but their combined effect is wonderful, indeed, curing cases that have resisted all other treatment, even by the best of physicians. Anybody and everybody, I don't care who they are, would be improved by taking one of these pills after breakfast and dinner for a while. People that want a clear complexion and smooth skin, free of disease, must keep their nervous system in a healthy state. Domestic care and business anxiety often make quite as serious inroads upon the nervous system as the higher order of mental work, and thousands of people are eking out a miserable existence, suffering from nervous weakness and sick and nervous headache, that could be perfectly cured by availing themselves of this remedy. It is certainly worth a trial in every case. The claims of this preparation are recognized by the profession, I am glad to say, and largely used and recommended by them. And why should it not be so? It is not a patent medicine. It is the result of my own experience in the practice of medicine. As to my professional standing I will let the following letter from Prof Samuel Chew, Sr, speak.
Respectfully,
DR C W BENSON

BALTIMORE, Sept 1, 1880
Dr C W Benson is a graduate of the School of Medicine of the University of Maryland. While a pupil of that institution he was distinguished for industry and zeal in the pursuit of professional knowledge, and his examination for the degree of Doctor of Medicine was entirely satisfactory to his instructors. I have known him for several years and believe him to be a physician eminently prepared to be useful, and also of unexceptionable moral character. I take great pleasure in commending him to the esteem and confidence of the community.

CATARRH DESCRIBED. Catarrh is an inflammation of the mucus membrane of the nasal cavities commencing a little above and behind the palate extending upward to the nose and is not confined to the nasal cavities but in its progress it invades the antrums and air chambers of the head and sinuses which cover a portion of the face and extend to the lower part of the forehead. Some sufferers feel as if their whole face head and throat were in a state of decomposition so excessive is the discharge of matter when such quantities is secreted we cannot wonder at the result. Just consider for a moment the intricate structure of the nasal cavities all of which are lined with the same delicate mucus membrane as the nose and throat hence the contaminating influence upon any portion affects the whole. When the upper part of the respiratory organs becomes involved the larynx the bronchial tubes consequently the lungs share the fate of the progress of this terrible disgusting and fearful disease. Of course the victim has tried snuffs and washes without number but has failed to realize any permanent benefit because nothing more is required. It is found Dr Joseph Briggs Medicated Oxygenated Vapor is perfect in principle delightful in effect, absolute in result in connection with his other remedies which are furnished to the patients with directions for use. The most desperate case can be cured even where the sense of smell taste and hearing are partially or completely destroyed. Sufferers from Catarrh Bronchitis Laryngitis Consumption or any and all diseases of the throat lungs and chest will do well to consult Dr Joseph Briggs, the Bangor House from [illegible] Charges reasonable. WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 10, 1879.

Our Glorious Victory!

Our advices from the various counties render it substantially certain that the Republicans have elected not only a large majority of the House of Representatives but also at least nineteen Senators, thus insuring the election of Hon. Daniel F. Davis as the next Governor of Maine!

Many of our friends, indeed, believe that the complete returns will give Mr. Davis a clear majority of the popular vote, and the ratio of gains in the vote thus far reported gives strong encouragement to that belief, although we fear that the towns still to be heard from will not make so favorable a showing for the Republican side.

But even if we have not succeeded in wiping out the entire opposition majority of more than 13,000 last year, we have won a most remarkable and signal victory, in regaining control of every branch and department of the State Government at the very first election after the combination triumph of last year.

It has taken two or three years in other States and some much longer, to secure such a reaction against demagogism; but we have strangled the Bourbon-Greenback fusion that gained foothold in our State a year ago, and Maine is as sure a Republican State for 1880 as it was in 1872 or 1876.

Our triumph has been won in the face of tremendous obstacles, and in spite of all the powers of lying, slander, and appeals to the worst passions of men. We have won it fairly on an honest platform and in defence of noble principles, directly in contrast with the dickering and trading of our political opponents.

Maine will have no brighter page in her history than that which records the brilliant success of the Republican campaign of 1879.

Honor to Old Penobscot!

We are fully justified in claiming special honor for the sturdy Republicans of Penobscot County for the splendid work done last Monday. In this County last year the fusion programme was originated and perfected, and we were beaten by 2,618 majority, and lost all but 2 Representatives.

This year we had to meet a compact combination of the Democrats and Greenbackers, and we have undertaken the up-hill work of wiping out a heavy adverse majority. Returns from 46 towns show an increase of 283 in the total vote which gives Davis 6,887; Smith 5,702; Garcelon 992. Republican majority 193 against opposition majority of 2,000 last year, or a net Republican gain of 2,193. The Republican vote has been increased 1238; Garcelon's increased 291; and Smith's decreased 1,246.

The fifteen small places to hear from, gave last year 610 opposition majority. Taking 193 from that would leave 417, and the ratio of gains if maintained would further reduce that by 273, leaving a close margin of 144. The county vote is undoubtedly close and it may take the full returns to decide which ticket is ahead.

We have elected eight Representatives, a gain of six from last year, and claim that Penobscot County has been second to none in contributing to the triumph we have achieved.

THROWING OFF THE MASK.

During the campaign the Commercial and all the fusion orators have urgently protested against any discussion of national issues, declaring that only State interests were involved. We have insisted that the only actual meaning of the campaign was the attempt of the Democratic wire-pullers to steal the seven Electoral votes of Maine, and aid the Democratic cause for 1880.

The Commercial of Tuesday—the day after election—fully confirms our statement by failing to refer to a State issue in any of its comments on the result; while it heads one column with a displayed boast that the election "does not make J. G. Blaine an eligible candidate before the next Republican Convention," and on another page it prints as a heading "Not much comfort to Blaine as a Presidential candidate."

This confesses the animus of the campaign, but the diminutive though frisky Bass will find that the splendid manner in which the disasters of last year have been rolled back by the Republicans of Maine will add new prestige and lustre to the name of our glorious leader in the battle of the past twenty-odd years.

OUR REPRESENTATIVES.

Our friends in the Newport, Dexter, Dixmont, districts made a gallant fight, overcoming last year's opposition majority and electing three staunch Republicans to the Legislature. These, added to the Bangor, Brewer and Exeter Representatives give us eight members, a gain of six from last year.

Charles P. Church, Esq., made a most gallant contest in the class of Bradford, Charleston and Lagrange, reducing the fusion majority from 223 last year to 88.

The Portland Argus in its leading editorial of Tuesday morning indicated that the Republicans had "carried the State by a small majority over both Smith and Garcelon—a result as surprising as that which overwhelmed them last year." It further says; "For Blaine and Hamlin it is the greatest triumph of their lives." In other columns it tries to prove its editorial erroneous, but does not succeed very well.

There are not as many tramps around our city as there were two weeks ago.—Commercial, Sept. 9.

No, the Greenback orators have gone home—to stay. Maine will have no attractions for them another year.

BASS'S IMPUDENCE.

Little Bass was so infuriated by the crushing defeat of Monday that in Tuesday's paper he was more stupidly impudent than usual. In one paragraph he insinuated:

Rum did it in many towns. "But "honest money" played the more important part.

In another paragraph he adds to base slander an insult to some of the most worthy and venerated citizens of Bangor.

The Blaine-Hamlin managers won't have any reserve vote to get out next year. Yesterday they had recruits from nearly every State in the Union and from the Canadas. Any man who could swear that he owned a plug hat and a stove cover in Bangor had little or no trouble in getting registered providing he would vote the Republican ticket. The lame, halt and blind were brought to the polls. Men who have been palsied for a generation, men who have not seen the sun for forty years, and others just on the threshold between life and death were brought out to vote for the ring ticket. If these men had come out voluntarily it would be additional evidence that the ruling passion is strong in death.

That is a little too much from a fellow who goes around trying to bull-doze saloon-keepers and threatening to make it cost a citizen a thousand dollars for notifying the City Board that a man whose name had been put on the list was not a legal resident of this city. But the worst part is the insulting reference to such honored citizens as the venerable Enoch Pond, D. D., Abram True, Esq., Major Henry B. Farnham and others, who in spite of their infirmities insisted upon being conveyed to the polls to perform their duty as citizens and vote for the principles they believe essential to the welfare of their State and Nation. When we think of these honored citizens and of the person who thus insults them in his miserable paper we can only think of the contempt in which the respectable portion of the community must hold him and his sheet.

And when it is remembered how the very gutters were scraped to get voters for the fusion ticket, and that the fusion managers actually demanded of the subordinate officer in charge of the County Jail that he should permit persons incarcerated there to come out and vote, the impudence of Bass's talk about Republican "recruits" will be appreciated.

A WELL-EARNED VICTORY. We congratulate that sterling citizen and staunch Republican George S. Hill, Esq., of Exeter, and all the Republican voters of the Exeter-Garland class upon the victory they won last Monday against the most powerful combination the enemy could put at work. Mr. Hill's brother Francis W., a Democrat of the "anything-to-beat-Republicans" stamp and the wealthiest man of the section, was nominated by the fusion, and all that money and pressure could do was brought to bear to wrest the district from the Republicans. In spite of all our candidate George S. Hill has been elected by six majority. The Commercial says the defeat of F. W., will be a "cause for sincere regret" on the part of every opponent of the Republican party, which is true; and the victory won by George S., will be cause for sincere gratification to every Republican in Maine.

Among the many strange customs of savage nations, not the least curious are the ceremonious observances offered by them to the wild beasts which they hunt and kill. The boldest native hunters of British India would shudder at the thought of leaving the corpse of a slain tiger till they have singed off its whiskers to the very root, without which precaution they firmly believe that the ghost of the dead monster will haunt them into their graves. In many parts of Russia, the killing of a wolf is not thought complete without the cutting off of the head and right fore-paw. The Lapps and Finns, whenever they kill a bear, surround the body with loud lamentations. One hunter then asks the dead beast, "Who killed thee?" and another answers, "A Russian," when all the rest exclaim in chorus, "A cruel deed, a bloody deed!" hoping by this means to divert the bear's resentment from themselves to the imaginary Russian. Skulls of brown bears, nailed to the trees by the Indians, in compliance with some native supersition, are often found by Canadian camping parties in the woods around Lake Simcoe; and the tribes of Northern Siberia never kill a polar bear without extracting its two largest teeth, which in their belief, is the only safeguard against its coming to life again.

If, in the East we have not been quite able to understand the peculiarities of California politics, there is no mistaking the conclusiveness and importance of the result as to the State ticket and the Congressional representation. The Republicans have elected their entire State ticket. At no time in the history of California could this verdict of the people have been more emphatic. There was no great diversities of opinion as to the merits of the new constitution; the city of San Francisco was given over to numerous and excited factions; the shooting of Kalloch on the eve of the election was calculated to excite the passions rather than to steady the judgment of the voters. Out of all the discussion the Republican party has become triumphant.

The grand annual pilgrimage to Mecca has been attended with unusual perils. Yearly, after the Ramazan, the pious Mussulmans of Asia rendezvous at Damascus and those of Africa at Cairo, whence they proceed to the Holy City. The Surreh Emineh, charged by the Sultan to lead to the Prophet's tomb the sacred mules laden with the gold-embroidered curtains, the imperial letter and the rich presents intended for the sanctuary, heads the procession, which is 70,000 strong. A smaller number of Hadjis there could not be, because it is written in the decrees of heaven that so many pilgrims shall annually travel to the shrine, and if there were any fears of "shortage" angels would miraculously make up the number. The Bedouins of Northern Arabia worry and plunder the pilgrims so that the Porte always sends an escort with the caravan. This year the robbers are so impudent that for the first time the pilgrims will travel under the protection of artillery, a battery of guns and two battalions of troops forming the escort.

If John B. Foster, G. W. Ladd and H. M. Plaisted could have exhibited themselves to the people a week longer we should have had Penobscot County Republican again by a couple of thousand majority.

The public have had enough of the Pickards and Browns, and those Reformers are bounced briskly out of the political field.

Cuticura

From the Hon. WM. TAYLOR, State Senator of Massachusetts.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Gentlemen,—To say that I am grateful, is only a poor expression of my feelings, but it is the best word I can use, for I feel it in every sense of the word. I have been a great sufferer with skin diseases for the last twelve (12) years. My head and face being covered with sores, I could not rest with the burning heat and itching of the parts affected, and was confined to my house for weeks at a time. My disease has been called Eczema, of a most aggravated type, by many physicians, but I do not think it ever fully understood by any of them. It was more like a combination of several skin humors. I have spent much money seeking a cure, and in 1867 I went to Europe, and consulted some of the best physicians in London. I received temporary relief only, for in the spring it would break out again as bad as ever. When I came back to Boston, I was told by many friends that Dr. —— (whose reputation for the cure of those diseases was of the highest order) could cure me. I waited on the doctor; he prescribed for me. I followed his advice for six months, and I can safely say, without any improvement. I tried other physicians, and among them Dr. ——, of East Boston, and Dr. ——, of city proper, but all to no purpose. They did me no good, their remedies were so ineffectual that at no time did I feel that a cure would result from them.

I have swallowed five hundred arsenic pills, 5.20 grain, and taken bottle after bottle of internal remedies, besides all the external applications I have used, but the effect was the same. I became satisfied that I could not be cured, but might be kept from getting worse.

Now, about three months ago, Mr. Mehan, a gentleman well known to Boston people, called my attention to your CUTICURA, and I promised wonderful results if I would only make a trial. He told me of his own experience with it, and so persevered on me that I went with him to a drug store and bought two large boxes of Cuticura, and some Cuticura Soap, and commenced to use it according to the directions. There was so much humor lodged within the skin, that as soon as I commenced the use of Cuticura it came to the surface and festered, until vast quantities had come out and greatly intensified my sufferings for about two weeks. But I did not mind this, as I could see that I was going to get rid of the humor when I saw it coming to the surface in such large quantities. After the first two or three weeks' use of this remedy, I was greatly encouraged by a gradual lessening of the inflammation of a number of painful sores.

I carefully, faithfully, and cheerfully followed the directions to the letter, feeling each week nearer a cure, until at the present moment, after three months' use of Cuticura, and twelve years of almost constant suffering as was ever endured, I can say that I am cured, and pronounce my case the most remarkable on record. I have been so elated with my success that I have stopped men on the street who were afflicted, and told them to get Cuticura and it would cure them. This is why I am so grateful to you, for I believe it to be the best and greatest discovery of the age, and that it will cure all who are suffering with these diseases. I may add that I took no internal remedies but the Cuticura Resolvent. WILLIAM TAYLOR.

THE Brooklyn Life Insurance Co.,
OF NEW YORK.

During the years 1875 and 1876 the Life Insurance Companies of New York State, in turn—with one or two exceptions—were most critically and expertly examined, their assets and liabilities calculated upon exact present values, and their methods of transacting business were definitely ascertained and publicly reported, so that the reports thereof respectively afford correct and trustworthy guides to their condition and practice.

THE EXAMINATION OF THE BROOKLYN LIFE Insurance Company commenced about the middle of June, 1876, and was completed [illegible] August, and comprised not only the ordinary verification of the Annual Statement, but likewise a thorough investigation and analysis of its business, past and present, from the very organization of the Company in 1864 down to August 1st, 1876.

The inquiry was most thorough, and no detail of receipt, expenditure or investment was omitted or overlooked.

Attention is particularly directed to the following which collectively, probably, cannot be verified of any other Life Insurance Company.

1st—The Assets of the Company were valued by the Experts of the State Insurance Department at a higher figure than claimed by the Officers of the Company in their Annual Exhibit.

2nd—After a personal apprisement, mostly by the same gentlemen who have examined the properties of many of the Life Companies of this State, all the Mortgages—without a single exception—were found to be of full value as stated by the Officers of the Company, and were so accepted.

3rd—Under a similar appraisement, the real estate owned by the Company was valued at a greater sum than was stated and claimed by the Company's Officers.

4th—Every investment of the Company was found to be worth either an equal or a larger value than that placed on it by the Company in the Statement of its Officers. The Examiners were unable to reduce the investments of the Company in the sum of a dollar, notwithstanding the rigid scrutiny and the scrupulous severity of their estimates.

The Chief Examiner, the Deputy Superintendent Hon. John A. McCall, Jr., says, "Its general management is clean. Its managers have been faithful, conservative and honest. The Policy holders are treated equitably and justly. In fact, it is a Policy-holder's Company—no one else gets much out of it."

New York Herald, March 5, 1879, said "This Company does a safe business."

Journal of Commerce, N. Y. City, Oct., 1875 said "Its (the Brooklyn Life) conservative position has been found worthy of the highest praise."

The Sun, of Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 23, 1879, said. "The Brooklyn Life Insurance Company is regarded as one of the most reliable and trustworthy Life Insurance Companies in this country."

Index, Boston, Apr 1, 1875. "The Brooklyn Life is a Company which stands honorably by its agreement, a Company which will deal as honestly by its insured as the high character of its officers, and the high repute in which it is held by all who have had dealings with it, would lead one to anticipate."

Spectator, New York, November, 1878. "The Brooklyn Life Insurance Company has always been distinguished for the economy of its management."

The Chronicle, New York, October 3, 1878. "The official endorsement of the Company, (The Brooklyn Life,) was not needed to convince any one acquainted with the management of the Company, that it was sound to the core."

[From the Weekly Item, Philadelphia, April 27, 1878.] "One of the Life Insurance Companies of which we can always cheerfully have a good word to say, is the Brooklyn Life, of New York. It is unquestionably one of our best managed life offices. It is conservative, intelligent and reliable. Its known solvency, and the high character of its management, have all along secured it immunity from the carpings of critics who have found plenty of targets for their shafts elsewhere, and gives it a prestige and popularity that render it a most desirable Company.

The Good Result in York

PORTLAND Sept 9 York county, lacking one town which gave three opposition majority last year, gives fifty Republican majority on the Governor ticket, which would insure Davis' election by the Legislature if the election of the Franklin county Senator had not already done it

Later—The Republican Success—Republican Senators by 200 Majority

SUMMARY.

Eighteen Senators Claimed

[Special to the Whig and Courier]

AUGUSTA, Sept 9 4.30 P M We have carried York by 193 majority, and have eighteen Senators We claim Davis elected by the people We celebrate to-night and send greeting to Penobscot for her goood, practical victory. J H M.

Later—Nineteen Senators—A Popular Majority Claimed for Davis

AUGUSTA, Sept 9, 8 P M We have elected our Senator in Franklin by nine majority This gives us nineteen Senators We believe Davis will have one thousand popular majority Augusta is rejoicing and sends greeting to Old Penobscot J H M

Nineteen Republican Senators

PORTLAND, Sept 9 It is now certain that York has elected three Republican Senators, giving the Republicans not less than eighteen out of thirty-one, ensuring the election of Davis by the Legislature and complete control of the State government Oxford has elected Fusion Senators, but Franklin undoubtedly gives a Republican Senator making nineteen Republican Senators

TEN COUNTIES REPUBLICAN AND DAVIS'S ELECTION BY THE PEOPLE PROBABLE

AUGUSTA, Sept 10 Very few additional returns have been received here since yesterday morning It will be several days before the result is known from the official returns It seems quite probable that Davis may be elected by the popular vote, but it is not yet actually known to be so The Republican ticket is elected in Androscoggin, Cumberland Franklin, Hancock Kennebec Lincoln, Piscataquis, Sagadahoc Washington, York, giving them 19 Senatorial votes and making certain the election of Davis Governor by that body if he is not elected by the people

The Republican majority in Kennebec county will be nearly sixteen hundred, and eleven of the thirteen Representatives elected are Republicans Great and general rejoicing is manifested by the Republicans over the result

The Republicans of Hallowell celebrated their victory this evening with a general illumination of the city and by other appropriate demonstrations of the gratification they feel at the result

CELEBRATING THE VICTORY IN AUGUSTA

AUGUSAT, Sept 9 The Republicans of this city celebrated the victory of their party in the recent State election this evening by burning of tar barrels, ringing of bells a salute of heavy guns, a general illumination of their residences and places of business The demonstration was one of great joy at the result of the election

TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION

About 8 o clock the Davis corporals formed at their headquarters on Water street making with the citizens who joined them, a procession of several hundred persons and preceded by the Augusta Band, playing lively and patriotic airs, marched through the principal streets on both sides of the river

SENATOR BLAINE SERENADED

Marching down State street in the midst of a shower of rockets that made the street almost as light as day the procession halted at the residence of Senator Blaine where some thousands of people had assembled After music by the band loud and continued calls were made for Blaine, Blaine in response to which Mr Blaine appeared at his door and addressed the assemblage as follows

HIS RESPONSE

Fellow Republicans, I thank you for the compliment of calling on me in such large numbers to rejoice with you over the auspicious result of yesterday's election We have achieved all that the most sanguine could desire

DAVIS'S ELECTION BY THE PEOPLE PREDICTED

We have chosen a large majority of the House of Representatives, have secured 18 Senators beyond all doubt and may possibly have 20 out of the 31 that constitute the body. We have given to our candidate for Governor a plurality of many thousands, and as the returns are now coming in from the back towns I venture the prediction that Frank Davis will have an absolute majority over both of his competitors, though I do not as yet assert this to be a fact

THE MAGNITUDE OF THE CONTEST

The great votes in this State have hitherto been cast under the stimulus and excitement of a Presidential contest with candidates for Congress canvassing every district and often with a United States Senatorship depending on the choice of the Legislature, but in this offest of off years, without the excitement of a National contest, with no candidates for Congress in our districts, with no Senator to be chosen by the Legislature, we have thrown the largest vote in the history of the State The majority against us last year was great, representing 10 per cent. of the total vote thrown, the total vote being a remarkably full one To recover from such a reverse in a single campaign and place every department of the State Government back under the control of the Republican party is an achievement over which we may well rejoice.

EXTRAORDINARY FEATURES OF THE CAMPAIGN

In the moment of victory it is always well to be moderate It is wise also to be just and justice requires me to say that the campaign now closed presented some of the most extraordinary features The Democratic party merged itself in the Greenback organization, deserted its own candidate and flocked to the standard of Joseph L Smith Here in our city we had strong illustrations of what was going on all over the State

THE POSITION TAKEN BY DEMOCRATS

I can point you to leading Democrats whose property is almost wholly in Government bonds, who joined loudly in the cry against exempting bonds from taxation You all know the President of one National bank in our city and the ex-President of another who both voted the Greenback ticket and joined in the howl which denounced themselves as pirates and robbers. A very large proportion of the bond holders and owners of bank shares among the Democrats of Maine voted the Greenback ticket and echoed and re-echoed all of the silly and wicked cries raised by the avowed communists who took part in our campaign. Did these Democrats believe the cries in which they joined? If they did they are guilty in assisting to rob the people. If they did not they are guilty of making a false and mischievous representation of a most important public issue.

THE CONTEST WAGED BY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

The Republicans conducted the campaign on a square, open, honest issue. They stood as one man for upholding the credit of the Government, for maintaining the permanent equality of money with coin and for resisting all attempts to revive the dangerous doctrine of state sovereignty as opposed to the just authority of the nation. On these issues we conquered. The State of Maine returns to her loyalty and to the good government she has always enjoyed under Republican rule. We all worked and worked with a will. No man deserves more credit than another, and all are to be honored for what they have done To you whose efforts maintained Republican ascendency in this city I offer my special congratulations and the hearty thanks of the party throughout the State.

THE GRAND RESULTS OF THE ELECTION

Remember too, my friends, that this contest was for three years The victory of this year insures a still greater one next year, and the adoption of biennial elections puts off the ensuing contests until 1882 The Republicans of Maine, therefore, finished in 1879 the greater part of their political work till 1882 Let us not forget, however, in the moment of victory that our opponents share in the fruits of our triumph as well as we. Good government, an honest dollar and an honest ballot will benefit all alike, and while we can not refrain from just criticism of certain phases of the campaign, we must not forget that Republican, Democrat and Greenbacker are all merged in the higher and better title of American citizen, and that a triumph which benefits one must in the end benefit all

Thanking you again for the courtesy of your call and the cordiality of your greeting I bid you good night

REPRESENTATIVE HALE SERENADED.

After the speech and rousing cheers for Senator Blaine the Davis Corporals and Band returned to the head quarters of the former on Water street Upon the arrival of the night train from Bangor the Davis Corporals and band marched to the depot and serenaded Hon Eugene Hale, of Ellsworth, who was aboard Mr Hale responded in a brief congratulatory speech The Corporals and band then formed and escorted Mr Hale to the residence of Mr Blaine where he and Mr Hale spent the night

Celebrating

ROCKLAND, Sept 8 The Republicans celebrated the result of the State election by a very large gathering in Post Office Square this evening with bonfires, music, rockets and ringing of bells Short congratulatory speeches were made by Gen Davis Tilson and T R Simonton of Camden

The Fight Among the Democrats

NEW YORK Sept 9 The Tribune's Syracuse dispatch says that each of the two wings of the Democratic party made strenuous efforts to secure a lease of Wieting Opera House in which the State Convention will be held to-morrow, for the purpose of securing the appointment of door keeper and police arrangements in its own interests. At the time of the meeting of the Democratic State Committee at Niagara Falls, Wilkinson in the interest of the Tilden wing telegraphed to Syracuse engaging the hall on his personal responsibility and thus the lease had to be made to him

LOOKING FOR THE MAINE CENTRAL DEPOT The other morning as one of our citizens was walking down Harlow street he saw a man coming towards him, at a gait that would have distanced many of the would be pedestrians that are now scattered all over the country He had a valise in one hand and an overcoat in the other, and when he reached the Bangor man he asked him how far it was to the Maine Central depot As the man was nearly up to Morse's hill our friend told him if he intended to reach the train that morning, he wanted to face about and make lively time in the other direction as he only had about five minutes in which to catch the cars He turned and started out as though he would catch the train or die in the attempt, and as we have not heard of any one being found beside the road, it is safe to infer that he reached the depot in season How he came to be wandering around on Harlow street in search of the Maine Central depot has not been explained

Boucicault's Latest Railroad Scene, as shown in 'Rescued' at Booth's Theatre, N Y, is a triumph in that branch of the dramatic art The entire stage is used for it, the centre being occupied by a high drawbridge at the end of a tunnel, both constructed so well that they look exactly like reality, and have none of the flappiness that usually characterizes timber and masonry made of canvas The villain of the play, in order to wreck the train of which his rival is the engineer, chloroforms the bridge tender and opens the draw. The train is seen in the distance, winding toward the dangerous spot. Then comes the noise of its approach, growing from a murmur to a roar. By this time the audience is more excited than would seem possible to anybody not there to see. The heroine arrives, tries to re-adjust the lever that closes the draw, and is delayed by her lack of knowledge of the subject of drawbridges. The glare from the locomotive's headlight flashes out from the tunnel, and the hissing of steam is mingled with the roar. The front row in the gallery is now seen to be on its feet, and people in the orchestra are breathlessly leaning forward. Just in time, the draw swings shut, and the train dashes over in safety. There is an instant of relieved silence in the auditorium, as the train's noise wanes away, and then such a tumult of applause as Booth, by the best acting he ever did in the same house of his misfortune was never rewarded with.—Boston Herald

"We have gone and done it." Yes, we have been to see Dr. Briggs, the skillful operator on corns, &c., and, as if by magic, our old friends have left us, and are numbered with the million and one which the Doctor has sent to their own home. We had heard and read much about the Doctor's skill, but a practical experience is better than hearsay. Our experience is great comfort with feet that have suffered pain untold for years. The operation was without pain, and so easy that we might have had a good nap had not the Doctor kept his jokes a going so merrily that we could not sleep." His patients speak in such glowing terms of his success, that we feel almost inclined to wish that we were troubled with a corn or two, so that we might place ourselves in Dr B s hands Hard case, ours" Dr Josiah Briggs can be consulted from 8 A M to 9 P M, at the Bangor House, for a few days

THE THRICE-WEDDED.

BY MARION HARLAND.

Beyond a start at the beginning of his speech, she exhibited no sign of confusion or surprise; and now, withdrawing to her window, she looked forth with the same immobility countenance, never stirring until he pushed aside his cup. Then she took up the waiter, saying, calmly—

"My situation cannot be made worse. I accept your offer; stipulating, however, that the ceremony shall be performed here, and by a minister whom I know."

"It is well. This is the twentieth of August. On the twentieth of November, I shall be here again. Make no preparations, but expect me. Remember, November twentieth. Good-night!"

Three months more of petty tyranny, and insulting jeers, and uncomplaining toil. The dry leaves of the locust had dropped, peicemeal, from the sapless twigs; the lean poplar stretched up naked arms in its woful prayer towards heaven; the sandy road was heavy with a fortnight's rains, when the De Tracy carriage again halted at the "tavern" door.

Four gentlemen alighted; and Mrs. Wills recognized with astonishment unspeakable, the clergyman of the district and two of the most influential men in the region—one a justice of the peace; the other a respectable farmer. But one trunk was removed this time, and John carried it in, to "Mrs. Thorn," who accepted it without remark. It contained a complete suit of travelling apparel, and ere Mrs. Wills, having recovered from her wordless amaze, had exhausted a tenth of her invectives, the bride presented herself in the room where the gentlemen were waiting. With involuntary and profound respect, they arose and saluted her. She appeared like a lady of rank, who had put off her disguise, rather than the maid-servant of an inn assuming one, so well did the habit of gray silk, the rich cashmere, the velvet bonnet and plume) become her. Disregarding Mrs. Wills' abuse and interrogations, she advanced, and laid her hand in the proffered one of Colonel De Tracy, for by this title his companions addressed him, and the ceremony proceeded. It was short. A written certificate of the marriage, signed by the witnesses, was intrusted to the minister, another given into the bride's keeping. The coachman had not quitted the box, and John stood holding the carriage door for his new mistress. Mrs. Wills disdainfully repelled her attempt to bid a civil farewell; but her righteous indignation did not urge her to the length of refusing the munificent douceur tendered by the colonel in the name of "Mrs. De Tracy."

The whip cracked, the blooded leaders darted off, bearing not Minnie Thorn, "the cobbler's widow," but Lavinia De Tracy, the beautiful consort of the descendant of a line of nobles.

CHAPTER IV.

Colonel De Tracy's eccentric character was so notorious that, when news reached his American friends that he had married, it was believed, an English lady, and was living in comparative seclusion in Paris, it was "no more than everybody had expected," although some were sadly chagrined thereby. His nearest relatives were the son and daughter of a half brother. They had been reared and educated by him, and notwithstanding his liberal portionment of them at their marriages, which had occurred several years previous to his, it was currently whispered that he would make the eldest son of one his heir. This unforeseen matrimonial adventure was a terrible blow to parental ambition and friendly prognostications. But his letters—succinct as war dispatches—were regular as ever; still, at stated, and not distant periods, came costly gifts to his grand-nephews; so hope maintained a struggling existence.

Two years elapsed, and without a word of preparation, the Colonel electrified Captain and Mrs. De Tracy, who resided within a few miles of his country-seat, by walking into their breakfast-room one clear, frosty morning. The lady's scream was certainly unfeigned, as was the gentleman's start; their expressions of overwhelming rapture may have been equally so; but a less shrewd judge of human nature than himself could have detected a dryness in the inquiries they would have had cordial, after the health of "his lady."

"And when are we to see her, dear uncle?" asked Mrs. De Tracy. "I am so impatient."

He drew two cards from his pocket.

"She charged me with these for you."

"'At home Thursday evening;' but you will not forbid her relations from seeing her before that time? Almost a week!"

"By my desire, she receives no company until then." "I wish her to recover entirely from the fatigue of travelling."

He made a similar excuse to his niece and her husband, upon whom he likewise called that day; and it was with curiosity whetted by delay, that they repaired, with the crowd, to his house at the set time. His establishment befitted his wealth and taste, and it could have had no fairer mistress than the magnificently-attired woman who awaited her guests. Refined in every motion and look, with strength to conceal her own feelings, and tact to divine those of others, she was listening, with an air of respectful attention, to her lord's last injunctions.

"It is, as I have told you, my intention to adopt one of the boys, sooner or later. In the choice, I shall be guided by further observations, and in these I require the aid of your woman's eye and wit. I should decidedly prefer Edward's son as bearing my name, were it not that certain early follies of his father have weakened this predilection. His sister Emily married a man of talent and good family, a cousin of Edward's wife. A proud race are those Lisles."

"Lisles!" almost passed the lady's lips; and a perceptible tremor did not escape the speaker.

"Do you know them?" he inquired.

"I have heard of them," was the quiet reply.

"From me, doubtless. I must have spoken of them frequently to you."

He never had; and his further remarks were unheard. This Eleanor, then, whose dutiful letters to her "very dear uncle" she had perused, was her early foe! the murderess of her husband! for thus was she branded in the fire-stamped book of her Past. She, to whom she owed her lifeless heart and frozen affections; her infidelity in human goodness; her utter isolation of spirit, would be in her presence in a few minutes; and she must meet her with honeyed phrase; must curb the impulse to dash her to the earth, and crush her with reproaches and scorn!

She was first upon the list of arrivals. Leaning upon her husband's arm, she swam into the apartment, as haughty in her bearing, if not so handsome, as formerly.

Mrs. De Tracy knew them instantly; and as he drew off his glove to present his hand, she thought of the dripping gate-latch and trampled coin. They did not recollect her. She had not feared this. Eight years had transformed the blushing girl into the self-possessed woman. Very ladylike and composed was her reception of their lavish courtesy; the blood of the Lisles did not impart to their daughter an air of such thorough breeding. Later in the evening, another couple pressed through the fast-filling rooms. For a moment, people and walls were a rushing whirlpool, whose turbulence scarcely subsided, ere "My niece, Mrs. Hazlitt," "Mr. Hazlitt," were named.

She had heard that he was cousin to the Lisles; but how could she expect to see the frank, kind face which had beamed upon her that bitter Christmas night—the one star amidst black clouds?

While the dance and song and hilarious converse went on—in that brain, prematurely matured, as her moral sense was blunted by injustice and suffering, there was preparing a scheme of revenge. Her mentor's maxims of fatality and destiny had not been without effect upon her mind. Chance or Fate had placed the rod and the reward in her hand. Beneath the placid mien and smiling face burned the spirit of a Medea; to herself she was a heaven-ordained Nemesis.

CORNS,

BUNIONS, INGROWING NAILS, CHILBLAINS

And all Diseases of the feet skillfully treated by

DR. JOSIAH BRIGGS,

At the Bangor House for a few days, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. Consultation free.

RELIABLE TESTIMONIALS.

[From Bishop Williams.—A Tribute.]

I most warmly recommend Dr. J. Briggs to all persons afflicted with the misery of corns. He has relieved me most speedily and effectually, and I heartily wish these words of mine may be of service to him. J. WILLIAMS, Bishop of Connecticut.

Middletown, Conn., April 24, 1879.

The following compliment is from the Rev. Dr. Giesy.

It gives me pleasure to give this certificate to Dr. J. Briggs, who most expertly and successfully operated upon my feet, removing without pain a troublesome corn. I recommend him to all alike afflicted. SAMUEL H. GIESY.

Norwich, Conn., Oct. 18th, 1878.

The following from Rev. Dr. Wheeler is another evidence that Dr. Briggs merits the confidence of those afflicted with ailments of the feet. The timid need not fear being hurt:—

I have known Dr. Briggs for eighteen years and can recommend him to all who are troubled with their feet as a most skillful operator in removing corns, quickly and without pain.

FRANCIS B. WHEELER.

Poughkeepsie, New York, June 5th, 1874.

"It is more than eight years since Dr. Briggs relieved me of the tormentors, from which I had suffered for twice eight years previously. He is entitled to the testimony that the operation, which was entirely without pain, was so successful that I have not experienced the least trouble from that source since. J. H. RAYMOND, LL. D.

Read the following from Professor Farrar, formerly of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., at present of Milwaukee, and then consider if it is wise to suffer unnecessary torments from corns, bunions, etc.:

"This may certify that I have experienced the happy results of the skill of Dr. Briggs, and I cheerfully declare that nothing I have heard of him or from him exceeds a truthful description of his works. His surgery is completely successful and without pain. CHARLES S. FARRAR, Professor of Chemistry and Physics Vassar College, June 2, 1874."

The following, from Prof. Orton, is another proof of the skill and success pertaining to Dr. Briggs in the practice of his profession.

This is to certify that Dr. Briggs has removed corns for myself and members of my family, with perfect success, and without giving the slightest pain or discomfort. This statement is made most freely and thankfully. The Doctor thoroughly understands his business.

JAS. ORTON, Prof. Natural History.

Vassar College, June 2d, 1874.

Still another. The following from Prof. Backus is conclusive evidence that Dr. Briggs is skillful beyond a question.

I have observed Dr. Briggs' operation in removing corns from the feet of a member of my family, and have been surprised by his skill and by his rapidity in operating. This work is done without inflicting the least pain. T. J. BACKUS.

Vassar College, June 2d, 1874.

The following from Rev. Dr. Lloyd, is another convincing proof that Dr. Briggs performs his operation without pain:

I have great pleasure in testifying to the painlessness with which Dr. Briggs removes corns from the feet. Having removed exceedingly painful ones from the feet of my wife, and a slight one from my own, I can most cordially recommend him to those similarly afflicted.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 5th, 1874.

Poughkeepsie, June 5th, 1874.

Dr. Briggs—Dear Sir: Your operation in removing from me three corns without pain, was to my entire satisfaction. I can with much pleasure and confidence commend all who suffer from the same cause to your skilful relief.

Yours truly, etc., CHAS. S. HAGEMAN.

Read the following testimonial from Rev. Dr. Meyers to the delicate skill and success of Dr. Briggs in his profession:

From a short but pleasant experience with Dr. Briggs, I cordially commend him as a skillful and successful operator. J. H. MEYERS.

Milton on the Hudson, June 5th, 1874.

Still another evidence that Dr. Briggs merits the confidence and patronage of those troubled with afflictions of the feet.

The pests of many years disappeared before the skillful hand of Dr. Briggs, he painlessly removed for my wife a number of corns, one of which was very large and deep, and for myself and child those that promised fair to be a source of pain and trouble. We cordially commend him to any and all that need such benefactor. A. L. CULVER. Pastor Hedding M. E. Church.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 6th, 1874.

Read the following from Dr. Carter and be convinced:

Eight years ago Dr. Briggs removed a callosity, painlessly and perfectly successful. I consider him a man who understands his profession.

N. M. CARTER, M. D.

Poughkeepsie, June 6th, 1874.

The following from C. C. Wetsell, Principal of Cottage Hill Seminary, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is certainly a compliment to Dr. Briggs:

I hereby testify for the benefit of those similarly afflicted, that Dr. Briggs has most successfully removed two very troublesome corns from my feet and that without pain or subsequent soreness. I consider his work thoroughly and completely done. C. C. WETSELL.

July 1st, 1874.

Dr. Briggs has removed two corns from my feet, and the operation was performed perfectly to my satisfaction. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Briggs, as a safe and skillful operator in that important profession. JOHN R. COOPER, M. D.

Poughkeepsie, Jan. 26th, 1869.

The following from Rev. Mr. Longacre is convincing evidence that Dr. Briggs performs his operations in a satisfactory manner:

I have great pleasure in saying that Dr. Briggs has operated upon the feet of a member of my family with great gentleness and to our entire satisfaction.

ANDREW LONGACRE, 170 Chamber street.

Newburgh, N. Y., July 24th, 1871.

Read the following from the Rev. J. I. Tucker, of Troy, N. Y.

Dr. Briggs has extracted a corn from my foot to my entire satisfaction.

J. I. TUCKER, D. D.

Troy, Jan. 17, 1860.

Read the following from Rev. Mr. Adams, and be convinced that Dr. Briggs does not cause pain in his operation.

It gives me pleasure to state that Dr. Briggs has operated on difficulties of the feet for me without the least pain or inconvenience, and I am convinced by my own experience, of his skill in treating the various difficulties of the feet.

JOHN Q. ADAMS, Pastor First Baptist Church.

Newburgh, N. Y., July 24th, 1874.

Highly commendable from Rev. Dr. Palmer.

Dr. Briggs has treated both myself and Mrs. Palmer to our very great relief. I am using his medicines, and from their many reliable testimonials, have no doubt of their curative properties.

A. G. PALMER.

The following from Rev. Mr. Elliot:

I am assured from the manner in which a member of my family has been treated by Dr. Briggs, for a troublesome bunion, that he fully understands and scientifically treats such difficulties, and do not hesitate to recommend him to those who suffer from such causes. H. B. ELLIOT. Pastor of Second Congregational Church.

Stonington, Aug. 28th, 1878.

I have experienced the pleasure of having corns removed in a painless and skillful manner by Dr. Briggs, and can truly say it is a luxury to have these torments removed by an experienced operator. I can with pleasure recommend others to seek relief at his hands.

RALPH CHENEY.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 6, 1877.

The following from Mr. F. B. Noyes, Paymaster of the N. Y., P. and B. Railroad Co.

Stonington, Conn., Aug. 24th, 1878.

I have experienced the benefit of Dr. Briggs' skill in treating corns and bunions, and feeling satisfied that he possesses rare skill, I most willingly recommend his practice to those in need of his services. F. B. NOYES.

From Henry E. West, of West & Smith.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening—season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the up town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carriers' Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window,) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.
